

Let's Help
Students
Change
The World.

EDQUIDDITY

EDUCATION FOR YOUR WHATNESS

We partner with schools to position students to change the world.

We believe that the goal of schools should be to engage and empower students toward becoming efficacious — being able to tackle any problem or challenge. We support educators in designing classrooms and schools to this end. We believe that is not as much a function of what you teach as it is of how you teach. We provide professional development that not only focuses on embracing new structures and strategies but also promotes a shift in belief systems about what is possible in the classroom.

Overview of Consulting Services

Find the fit that's right for you . . .

- ❑ Designing *Learner-Active, Technology-Infused Classrooms (LATIC) entails a comprehensive look at classroom design to produce the ultimate learning environment that promotes student engagement, empowerment, and efficacy — whether students are learning fully in school or at home. This multi-year engagement in deepening educators' understanding of designing instruction:
 - ❑ Engages and motivates students through problem-based learning that depends on a series of paradigm shifts that develop across the years.
 - ❑ Provides students with carefully designed structures to take responsibility for their own learning, including self-assessment, reflection, and self-advocacy.
 - ❑ Positions the teacher to ensure learning for all through personalized facilitation.

Logistics

- Teachers attend 8 days of summer training, receive job-embedded support throughout the school year, and become the force of change for shifting the pedagogy of a school.
- Fees are based on the number of teachers.
- The summer PD experience will be conducted either as a fully on-site experience, a fully remote experience, or a hybrid experience, based on the district's needs. The workshop days run from 9:00 AM until 3:00 PM.

- The summer PD experience will be conducted using a learning platform of the district's choice (e.g., Office 365, OneDrive, and Teams; GSuite, Google Classroom, and Hangouts or Zoom; Schoology; CANVAS; and any combination thereof).
- Participating teachers will need a copy of the relevant grade-level edition of the book Students Taking Charge (2018 version) and Reinventing the Classroom: Learning Anywhere, Anytime. (Dr. Sulla's publisher is currently providing a 50% discount on the purchase of both books.)

□ Reinventing the Classroom Experience; Learning Anywhere Anytime is addressed through professional development based on Dr. Sulla's latest book of the same title, inspired by the need for teachers to implement classroom structures and strategies that work as well at home as they do in school — thus eliminating the need to shift teaching strategies when shifting venues. The professional development experience allows educators to explore critical components of their own classroom instruction in terms of what the COVID-19 pandemic taught us for building academic resilience and minimizing learning loss. Participants will explore and adopt structures and strategies that meet their needs in all of these areas:

- Student engagement
- Content delivery
- Executive function
- Social and emotional learning
- Assessment
- Equity

Workshops range from 4 to 8 days for teachers and administrators in a school, district, or network to embrace a new approach to teaching and learning. The fee is $2,010 per consultant per day for a group of up to 20 teachers. Participating teachers will need a copy of Reinventing the Classroom: Learning Anywhere, Anytime.

□ Leadership Summits are powerful and much-needed summer experiences to inspire, energize, and outfit school and district leaders for a new school year. Whatever the district's goals, successes, or challenges, the summit can expand collaboration and innovative thinking to chart a pathway for a more powerful future. Author Tanya Bosco uses her 10 mindsets of leadership to tackle new ideas, encourage reflection, and build the leadership repertoire for moving forward toward their collective and individual goals. The fee is $4,000 for the day, which can be broken into half-day increments for the convenience of scheduling with building administrators.

□ Workshops on Instructional Topics for your teachers and/or leadership team provide targeted instruction in a specific topic. Possible topics include: our 5-5-5-5 Approach to Instruction, Five Types of Videos to Rock Any Learning Environment, Anchoring Learning through the Five Ps of PBL, Designing Differentiated Digital Activity Lists, Using an Equity Lens to Reflect on Your Classroom Practices, Building Students' Executive Function Skills, Building SEL, and more! The fee is $2,010 per consultant per day for a group of up to 20 teachers.

- ❑ A Keynote Presentation by Dr. Nancy Sulla gives your school/district/organization the gift of inspiration and practical ideas through a one- to two-hour keynote presentation followed by optional Q&A breakout sessions. Engaging, innovative, and practical, Dr. Sulla consistently wows her audiences and leaves them with strategies they can immediately implement in the classroom. She will customize her message to meet the needs of your school or district. Trending topics include:
 - Where Are Schools Headed?
 - Reinventing the Classroom Experience: Learning Anywhere, Anytime
 - Students Are Problem-Finders, Innovators, and Entrepreneurs
 - The 5-5-5-5 to Thrive Approach to Instruction
 - Executive Function as the Missing Link to Student Achievement

The keynote itself is typically an hour, with an optional hour-long Q&A or breakout session following at no additional charge. Fees are $11,000 for a remote keynote, $15,000 for an in-person keynote.

Overview of Online Professional Development Services

- ❑ Virtual Learning Communities (VLC) offer teachers and administrators the opportunity to engage in online workshops facilitated by a consultant, over a five-week period (2 weeks in the summer). This personalized online learning environment allows participants to engage at times that are convenient for them and work in a more self-directed mode, while also meeting with and having access to consultants. The most current schedule and course lists are available at www.edquiddity.com/VLC. (We can provide custom VLCs just for your organization.) An optional 5-hour add-on allows educators to conduct an action research project in their school at no additional fee. EdQuiddity is a CTLE-certified sponsor for New York State. Each course is $595 per teacher, or $4,950 for 10-seat registration.
- ❑ Self-Paced PD Experiences include approximately 25–30 hours of content to allow educators to get just-in-time support and ideas as well as to expand their knowledge and possibilities. Each experience focuses on a specific topic (listed below) presented across a number of modules, which can be navigated in any order and will position educators for success in any learning environment.

Our current Self-Paced Professional Development Experiences include:

- Designing Remote/Hybrid Learning Environments for Learning Anywhere, Anytime
- The Equity Lens: Reflecting on Your Learning Environment
- Increasing Engagement with Differentiated Activity Lists (launches in March 2021)
- Anchor Learning and Engage Students with the 5 Ps of PBL (launches in March 2021)
- Building Executive Function: Skills for Life (launches in March 2021)
- Teacher as Facilitator: The Formative Assessment-Relationship Connection (launches April 2021)

- ❑ MyQPortal is an online collection of resources for designing and implementing student-driven learning and remote/hybrid learning environments. New materials are added on a regular basis. Subscribers receive a monthly newsletter with tips, ideas, and a summary of new materials. Due to the recent pandemic, we are offering a special rate of $995 per school for a yearly subscription.

Contact Us for Customization

IDE Corp. and EdQuiddity Inc offer a variety of in-person, remote, and virtual options for educators on all topics related to instruction, including executive function, student responsibility for learning, building equitable learning environments, culturally responsive teaching, meeting the needs of special education students, meeting the needs of ELL students, assessment, and more.

Together, we are helping teachers and administrators everywhere deliver a unique and powerful approach to learning. We want students and teachers everywhere to thrive in the new school year, whether they are at home, school, or a combination of both. #DoSomethingDifferent

Contact Nicole (Nik) Koch, IDE's Director of Client Relations and EdQuiddity's President, to brainstorm ideas at: nkoch@idecorp.com. We are happy to offer suggestions whether or not you decide to partner with us. Just let us know how you want to connect:

- Nik's cell: 973-615-3842 or give us your phone number and a good time to call
- Video conference (give us a good time to connect and we'll send you a link)

